

NEVER FORGET

Through the years we will remember
The names and faces of family and friends
Such bravery we've never seen
As our first line of defense
Giving their life the ultimate sacrifice
Their voices must still be heard
Even today I hear them say
Freedom is not just a word

There is no greater glory
As the sun begins to set
Than to die for one's Country
We are forever in their debt
They are gone but not forgotten
We remember them yet
They are gone but not forgotten
We will never forget

Your dreams I'll carry with me, in my memory
Each and every day
In honour of those, whose lives God chose
We are all made from dust and clay
I know someday we will meet again
And their voices will be heard
Even today I can hear them say
Freedom is not just a word

There is no greater glory
As the sun begins to set
Than to die for one's Country
We are forever in their debt
They are gone but not forgotten
We remember them yet
They are gone but not forgotten
We will never forget
